

EtG PROFICIENCY TEST 2010

On behalf of the Society of Hair Testing, The University Center of Legal Medicine Geneva-Lausanne is organizing the third ethyl glucuronide (EtG) proficiency test (test period 15.11.-31.12.2010).

The two hair samples come from real cases. The hair was washed with water and acetone, cut roughly and then powdered. The homogeneity of the powdered hair samples was tested at 10 different days in duplicates. With respect to the different lab equipment, each laboratory can work with its own analytical method. Nevertheless, we recommend to extract (incubate) the hair in the same manner as (1 ml water, 2 hours ultrasonic incubation). The purification step as well as the analytical measurement are in the responsibility of each lab.

The laboratories will receive a certificate to corroborate their successful participation.
